CLATTER!

RELAX.

DON'T MAKE THIS HARDER THAN IT NEEDS TO BE.

NNGH...!
FU---

YOU DIDN'T HAVE TO.

BUT THANK YOU.

NO WORRIES.

JUST DOING
MY PART.

HE STEPPED IN.

GLANCED ONCE.

THEN

...
NOTHING
TODAY.

...
NOT TODAY, EITHER.

EXPRESSION UNREADABLE.

A QUIET

They're late...

No, early.

Too early.
God, calm down,
Graham.

The manifest says forty-three crates offloaded in Kaohsiung.

But the receipt shows forty-two.

One crate just... vanished.

Not vanished.

Misrecorded.

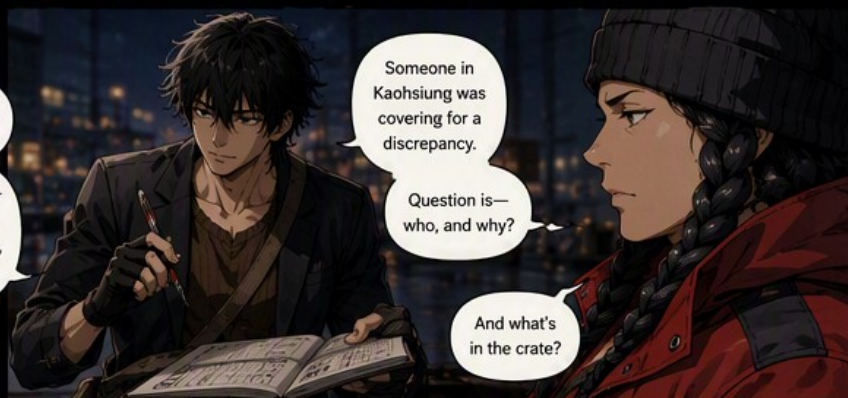

Look here—

The seal number on this crate matches this bill of lading, but the weight matches a different entry entirely.

VESSEL: AEGIS STAR
VOYAGE: AS-1187
PORT: KAOHSIUNG
			DATE: 05/14
			SEAL NO.
ITEM	QTY	WEIGHT (KG)	SEAL NO.
	1	1,120	KHS-77821
38	7	8,960	KHS-77822
39	2	2,560	KHS-77823
40	12	13,440	KHS-77824
41	21	23,520	KHS-77825
42	1	1,180	KHS-77826
43

See? Crate forty-three wasn't lost.

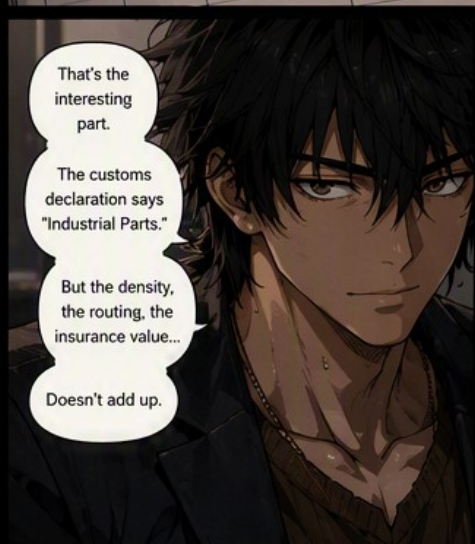

It was logged under cargo ID 77825 by mistake. Same seal, different line item.

Someone in Kaohsiung was covering for a discrepancy.

Question is— who, and why?

And what's in the crate?

That's the interesting part.

The customs declaration says "Industrial Parts."

But the density, the routing, the insurance value...

Doesn't add up.

Whatever's in that crate...

it's worth more than anyone's saying.

They're onto something.

And if they are...

I'm already too late.

SOME NIGHTS,
THE ONLY ANSWER...

...IS SPEED.

PORT ISHIKAWA.
23:47 JST.

THEY THINK THEY CAN CORNER ME?

BRATATATAT!

GOOD.

LET THEM WASTE AMMO.

BRAKKA!

BRAKKA!

SANPAKU EYES.

THEY SEE THE WHOLE PICTURE.

THAT'S HOW I STAY ALIVE.

ギューン!

TIGHT TURN.
THREAD THE NEEDLE.

STRAY ROUNDS
DON'T JUST MISS.

THEY MAKE THEIR OWN KIND OF NOISE.

KLANG!
KLANG!

SHE'S OLD.
HELLCAT 28.
NOT FASTEST.

BUT SHE LISTENS.

AND THAT'S ENOUGH.

LET THEM CHASE.

I DON'T RUN.

I LEAD.

EAST HARBOR.
11:47 PM.

SOME NIGHTS, THE PAST FINALLY CATCHES
UP TO YOU.

I TOLD MYSELF
I LEFT THAT LIFE BEHIND.

BURNED THE BRIDGES.
CLOSED THE FILES.
WALKED AWAY.

BUT SOME FIRES...

...THEY DON'T JUST BURN BUILDINGS.

THEY BURN
EVERYTHING.

OH GOD...
THEY KILLED EVERYONE.

SOME NIGHTS...
THERE'S NO ESCAPING
WHAT YOU STARTED.
